

DISCIPLINARY POLICY

Endeavour Multi Academy Trust

DOCUMENT CONTROL
Approved for operation within	Endeavour Multi Academy Trust
Version number	2
Consulted on with recognised trade unions	26/06/2023
Approved by	Trust's Policy Oversight Committee
Date approved	13/02/2024
Date of review	Summer Term 2024
Review period	Annual
Policy status	Statutory
Location published	External
Owner	Executive Board
DOCUMENT HISTORY DATE	DOCUMENT VERSION	DOCUMENT HISTORY
29/11/2023	1	New Policy Drafting
13/03/2024	2	Appendix added to policy

Purpose

The purpose of this policy and procedure is to set out the standards of conduct expected of our employees and to ensure that all disciplinary matters are dealt with fairly and consistently. This procedure does not deal with performance or sickness absence issues. These are dealt with in our Performance Improvement and Managing Attendance at Work policies.

Any reference to “the Trust” refers to The Endeavour Multi Academy.

The ‘appropriate level of authority’ should be determined according to The Endeavour Multi Academy Trust’s governance structure/scheme of delegation.

This policy applies to employees of The Endeavour Multi Academy Trust, referred to in this policy as employees.

The policy and procedure applies to all employees, regardless of length of service, but does not form part of the contract of employment and can be varied from time to time and in consultation with the recognised trade unions.

The procedure does not apply once you have left Endeavour Multi Academy Trust.

The policy and procedure is commended for adoption by governing bodies for application to all employees employed for Endeavour Multi Academy Trust.

General Principles

All managers have a duty to ensure that they and all the employees they are responsible for are aware of, and comply with, the Trust’s policies and procedures. Managers are also responsible for making sure that employees know when they are not achieving or maintaining the expected standards of conduct or behaviour.

All employees have a responsibility to be aware of and conduct themselves in line with the Trust’s policies, the law and maintain acceptable standards of conduct and behaviour. Where relevant, employees must adhere to codes of practice or standards associated with their profession or trade. Employees must also cooperate with disciplinary investigations as required.

The aim of the procedure is to set out and maintain the required standards of conduct and encourage improvement.

We are committed to equality and diversity and will make reasonable adjustments to the application of this policy and procedure in line with our equal opportunities commitment.

Acceptable Behaviour and Conduct

The relevant code of conduct provides employees of the Trust with an effective ethical framework within which to work and it provides the public with confidence that you are working on their behalf in an appropriate manner.

The Trust expects all employees to meet high standards of behaviour and conduct, including the relevant code of conduct. Examples of the types of expected standards of behaviour are detailed in this policy.

Minor Conduct Issues and an Informal Approach

For minor conduct issues, your manager will adopt an informal approach to help, guide or advise you in improving your conduct. Your manager will only consider dealing with minor disciplinary breaches through the formal stages of the procedure if your misconduct continues or the misconduct is too serious to be dealt with informally.

Cases of minor misconduct are usually best dealt with informally and confidentially. A conversation about the concerns and resolutions is often all that is required to improve your conduct. In some cases, your manager may decide that additional training, coaching and advice may be what is needed.

Where a manager has a concern about your conduct, they will organise an informal meeting to discuss the concern. The purpose of any informal meeting is to improve your conduct, to identify and examine any areas of concern and to provide a reasonable opportunity for you to respond. For example, where it is appropriate to question the factual accuracy of any concern that has been identified. You and your manager must ensure that you understand any future expectations of your conduct and, where appropriate, to develop an action plan leading to improvements in your conduct. Although this may result in a note of the discussion and any follow-up correspondence being kept by your manager on your personnel file, there will be no note made on your disciplinary record. You will be asked to confirm that you agree that any action plan you are signing up to is achievable and realistic and should raise any concerns that you have about the action plan with your manager.

Where the behaviour causing concern may be related to an underlying relationship issue, it may be appropriate to consider an independent third party, such as a mediator, to help resolve the situation rather than disciplinary action.

In the event that the matter cannot be resolved informally or the matter is too serious for the informal approach to be applied, then the formal disciplinary process will follow. Although the stages of the disciplinary process will normally be followed sequentially the school/Trust may enter the process at any stage depending on the seriousness of the matter.

No formal disciplinary action will be taken until the allegations have been fully investigated.

Links with Other Policies and Procedures

Grievance Policy – Where you submit a complaint during disciplinary proceedings, this will not normally stop the proceedings from progressing. Where you raise a grievance during disciplinary proceedings:

- The disciplinary proceedings may be temporarily suspended in order to deal with the grievance or,
- The grievance and disciplinary may be run concurrently where they are related.
- Where you assert that disciplinary proceedings being undertaken are unlawfully discriminatory or are motivated by reasons other than misconduct, you can raise a grievance.

Managing Attendance at Work Policy - Where you are absent due to sickness whilst a disciplinary matter is pending, the managing attendance at work procedure will apply as normal. However, those responsible for keeping in touch would not normally be the same people involved in the handling of your case. Under these arrangements due regard will be had for what is said by Occupational Health and any information you may wish to provide from your GP. We will arrange for you to see Occupational Health as soon as possible for them to assess your health generally and whether or not you are fit to participate in these procedures. Being absent from work due to sickness will not automatically stop the disciplinary procedure progressing.

Formal Disciplinary Process

Prior to any formal disciplinary decision being made, the following steps will be taken:

- An initial fact-finding meeting will take place with a manager to establish the facts of the case and to determine if a formal investigation is required. An investigating manager will then be assigned to fully investigate the allegations. It will also be considered at this stage if suspension is required. Alternatives to suspension should also be considered such as working in a different school within the Trust or alternative duties.
- An investigation will be carried out in accordance with the Investigation Procedure. If allegations have been made against you, you will be notified in writing of the nature of the allegations that are to be investigated prior to the investigation meeting. The amount of investigation involved will vary depending on the allegations in question and the circumstances of the case. Investigations will be dealt with as confidentially as is reasonably practicable and sensitively, in line with the Investigations Procedure.
- If following investigation it is reasonably believed that there are grounds for disciplinary action, you will be required to attend a formal disciplinary hearing.
- You will be invited to the hearing in writing in accordance with the Formal Meeting/Hearing Procedure.
- You will be provided with written details/evidence of the allegations against you in writing at least 10 working days before the meeting/hearing.

If you or your companion are unable to attend a formal meeting, you have a right to suggest an alternative time and date so long as it is reasonable, and it is not more than 5 working days after the original date.

- Where it is not possible to hold a face-to-face meeting under this policy, we may conduct the process remotely, for example using Microsoft Teams by mutual agreement. We will ensure that you and your companion have access to the necessary technology for participating. Your rights will not be affected, and we will ensure that the procedure remains fair and reasonable.
- You must provide copies of any relevant evidence you intend to refer to, at least 5 working days before the hearing.
- At the hearing the case against you will be explained and you will have the opportunity to respond to the allegations.

Right to be Accompanied

You have the right to be accompanied by a companion at any formal meeting as part of the investigatory or formal disciplinary procedure. The companion may be a fellow colleague, a trade union representative or an official employed by a trade union.

The companion is allowed to address the hearing, to put and sum up your case, respond on your behalf to any views expressed at the meeting and confer with you during the hearing. They may also request an adjournment and ask questions of anyone present. The companion does not, however, have the right to answer questions on your behalf, address the hearing if you do not wish it or prevent the employer from explaining their case. Other than confirming that all parties have the same documentation it would not normally be necessary to read out the content of the documentation.

Under this procedure, you do not have the right to be accompanied by anyone else (such as a spouse, partner, other family member or legal representative).

Where appropriate, eligible employees, for example those with disabilities or language difficulties, may have the attendance of a supporter or interpreter.

Suspension

Depending on the circumstances, you may be suspended from work on full pay during the investigation. Suspension on full pay is not a disciplinary penalty or a presumption of guilt. Suspensions will be carried out in accordance with the Suspension Procedure (Appendix 1). Alternatives to suspension may also be considered such as working in a different area of the school/Trust.

Your suspension period will be for no longer than is necessary to investigate any allegations of misconduct against you, or for so long as is reasonable while any disciplinary procedure against you is outstanding. It will be reviewed by a Manager on a regular basis to assess if there are any circumstances, not previously known, that affect the decision to suspend. You can expect to be updated following regular suspension reviews and on the status of the investigation by a mutually agreed person who will act as your key contact point. Whilst suspended you should not visit Trust premises or contact anyone connected with the Trust/school unless you have been authorised to do so by your manager. An exception to this is to contact an employee who is acting as a companion and supporting you as part of this process.

Action against Trade Union Representatives

Disciplinary action against a trade union representative can lead to a serious dispute if it is seen as an attack on their functions. Whilst normal disciplinary standards apply to a trade union representative's conduct as a colleague, the relevant full-time official should be notified of any action (including suspension) that the Trust proposes to take. All reasonable efforts must be taken to ensure that disciplinary action is not taken against a trade union representative until the relevant full-time official has had an opportunity to be present at any stage of the formal procedure.

Criminal Offences

Some criminal offences may affect your suitability to continue in your role with the Trust or damage their reputation. If you are charged with a criminal offence you must inform your manager as soon as possible. Failure to inform your manager may be considered a conduct matter. We will not treat notification about criminal proceedings, or a conviction (including bind-overs and cautions), as an automatic reason for dismissal or for any other form of disciplinary action being taken. We will decide what action to take, if any, after we have reviewed the matter. The main consideration should be whether the conviction is one that makes you unsuitable for your job or affects the Trust's reputation.

If you are subject to a criminal investigation, the Trust will determine to what extent it needs to conduct its own investigation before deciding whether to proceed to formal disciplinary action. The Trust will not usually wait for the outcome of any prosecution before deciding what action to take (unless specifically advised otherwise by the police). No decision to impose a disciplinary sanction or dismiss will be taken prior to giving you the opportunity to make representations.

If we have reasonable grounds to suspect that the potential misconduct involves fraud, systems abuse, theft, or any financial irregularity, we will notify the internal auditors and/or the police as soon as possible.

The Disciplinary Hearing

Formal hearings will be conducted in line with the Formal Meeting/Hearing Procedure. You must make all reasonable efforts to attend a disciplinary hearing. If you or your companion is unable to attend a hearing you may propose a new date of no more than 5 working days from the date of the original date.

The manager will respond sensitively when a delay is required, for example, it may arise for a reason related to a disability or emergency involving dependants. We may arrange another hearing date if you fail to attend through circumstances outside of your control.

If you do not attend the hearing without good reason, it should be re-arranged but if you do not attend the rearranged meeting/hearing, a decision may be made in your absence. You may submit a written statement to be taken into consideration.

Where you are persistently unable or unwilling to attend the hearing without good cause the manager should make a decision on the evidence available and proceed with the hearing in your absence.

The disciplinary hearing will be conducted by the Deciding Manager who will be an appropriate level of management or authority. Where dismissal may be an outcome, the hearing should be conducted by a panel of Governors or Trustees. A representative from HR may also be present and will always be present at hearings that may result in dismissal or an alternative to dismissal.

The Deciding Manager will explain the allegations against you and the evidence in support of those allegations. The deciding manager may ask the Investigating Officer to attend the hearing as a witness to present their report and answer questions on it. You will have the opportunity to respond to the allegations, which will include the presentation of your own evidence if you wish. You may request that a witness(s) attend the hearing except that where you rely on character witnesses. We would ask that witness statements be provided. However, witnesses whose evidence is not challenged will not be called. Where a witness is required to attend the Deciding Manager will invite them in writing.

Minutes of formal meetings will be provided to you for your information and copies of minutes, letters and action plans should be retained by the line manager on your personnel file.

Disciplinary Penalties

Stage 1 – First written warning

A first written warning may be issued by the Deciding Manager and will usually be appropriate for a first act of misconduct where there are no previous warnings and where any agreed adjustments and other support have been made or provided. The warning will remain active for 6 months and it should be disregarded for disciplinary purposes after this period.

Stage 2 – Final written warning

A final written warning may be issued by the Deciding Manager in the following circumstances:

- where there has been a further act of misconduct while an existing first written warning is in effect, or
- the seriousness of the misconduct is sufficient to warrant such a warning, even though no previous warning may have been issued

The warning will remain active for 12 months and it should be disregarded for disciplinary purposes after this period.

Stage 3 – Dismissal

Only an appropriate level of authority in line with the Trust's scheme of delegation can take a decision to dismiss and where any agreed adjustments and other support has been made or provided. A panel of governors or trustees who have not had any involvement in the case so far will be convened to hear the disciplinary case. You may be dismissed in the following circumstances:

- where, within the duration of the final written warning, the necessary improvement in behaviour has not been achieved and any agreed adjustment and other support has been made or provided. This would be with notice or payment in lieu of notice, or
- where there has been a further act of misconduct while an existing warning is in effect.
- where it is reasonably believed that you have committed an act of gross misconduct. Gross misconduct will usually result in summary dismissal without notice and without pay in lieu of notice. Examples of gross misconduct are detailed in the policy.

The panel or deciding manager (if applicable) may at their discretion consider alternatives to dismissal. Examples of such alternatives include demotion, loss of seniority, reduction in pay, compulsory training. If such an alternative is applied, it may also be accompanied by a final written warning.

If you decide to resign from your role during the ongoing investigation and before the panel has issued an outcome, the disciplinary process will cease. However if the allegations are linked to safeguarding, the Trust is required, under Keeping Children Safe in Education (KCSIE) regulations, to continue with the disciplinary process and issue an outcome in writing. In this case, the relevant external bodies will be informed and referrals to DBS/TRA made as appropriate. Any employment reference provided by the Trust to a new employer will state if resignation occurred during a disciplinary process.

Warnings

Where a warning is issued, this will be confirmed to you in writing within 10 working days of the hearing. The warning will state the misconduct that led to the warning, the action or improvement required by you, the duration of the warning and the likely consequences of the action of improvement not being taken and/or any further misconduct. You will also be advised of the right of appeal and the person to whom an appeal should be made.

Appeals

Where disciplinary action has been taken, if you are dissatisfied with that decision, you can appeal. Your appeal must be in writing and set out the grounds of your appeal in line with the list below and include all the information you wish to rely on at the appeal hearing. Please note this will not be a full rehearing and will only be based on the grounds of your appeal as stated in your appeal letter. You must send your appeal to the Clerk to Governors within 5 working days of the date you received the letter notifying you of the disciplinary decision. The action taken at the disciplinary hearing will remain in force pending the outcome of the appeal. You must be appealing against either:

- the finding that you were guilty of committing the alleged act (or acts) of misconduct where the evidence did not support this finding.
- the severity of the disciplinary sanction imposed taking into account the nature of the misconduct and the mitigating circumstances.
- the fact that you don't feel the correct procedure was followed and why.
- the fact the new evidence that was not considered or available in the disciplinary hearing has come to light that would change the outcome.
- the sanction is inconsistent with how others have been treated.
- there was unlawful discrimination in the handling of the disciplinary.

You will be invited to the hearing in writing in accordance with the Formal Meeting/Hearing Procedure. You will be given at least 10 working day's notice of the appeal hearing. You have the right to be accompanied at the appeal hearing by your companion or Trade Union Representative. An appeal panel will be convened of CEO, governors or trustees who have not had any involvement with the case.

You must provide copies of any relevant evidence you intend to refer to, at least 5 working days before the hearing.

The outcome of the appeal may be to overturn or confirm the original decision or apply a different, but not more serious, sanction. You will be advised of the appeal outcome, which will be confirmed in writing within 10 working days of the appeal hearing. The decision of the appeal panel will be final and there is no further right of appeal.

You are not entitled to raise a further complaint under the Trust's Grievance Policy (or any of the Trust's complaints procedures) in relation to the same grounds of appeal.

Statutory Duty to Refer Conduct Matters

There is a legal requirement for the Trust to make a referral to the Disclosure and Barring Service if it is felt that you pose a risk to a child or a vulnerable person or have engaged in conduct that has harmed (or is likely to harm) a child or vulnerable person.

In addition, a referral will be made to a relevant professional body (i.e., the Teaching Regulation Agency) if there are concerns about any serious misconduct and fitness to carry out your duties and responsibilities or fitness to practice.

Examples of Standards of Behaviour

The following are examples of the behaviour expected by the Trust of all its employees, although the list is not exhaustive:

- you should attend work punctually and regularly, in line with operational requirements.
- you should carry out reasonable requests/instructions from your managers promptly and efficiently, and to the required standard.
- time off must be approved in advance by the appropriate level of authority, usually your manager and be in line with your contract of employment.
- you must follow the procedures outlined in the Managing Attendance at Work Policy when notifying the Trust of your sickness absence.
- you must comply with all of the Trust's policies and procedures, including but not limited to the Bullying and Harassment Policy, the relevant Code of Conduct, the ICT Acceptable Use Policy or the Health and Safety Policy.
- you must adhere to professional body and statutory guidelines, as appropriate, and act professionally at all times.

In your own interests, and in the interests of the Trust as a whole, you should bring serious breaches of Trust's policies or procedures to the attention of management.

Examples of Gross Misconduct

The following are examples of gross misconduct but this list is not exhaustive:

- Action that has caused, or is likely to cause a child to suffer significant harm.
- Failure to take action to protect a child whom you believe is suffering, or is likely to suffer, significant harm.
- Theft or unauthorised removal of property, fraud, falsification of the Trust's records or any other dishonesty.
- Actual or threatened violence or bullying behaviour.
- Deliberate or serious damage to the Trust's property or that of a colleague, customer, contractor or authorised visitor.
- Serious negligence which does or could result in loss, damage or injury.
- Deliberately accessing, copying or distributing pornographic, offensive, obscene or inappropriate material on the internet or paper media.

- Being under the influence of alcohol, drugs or other similar substances at work which may give reasonable grounds to suspect your ability to undertake your duties or being in possession of illegal or intoxicating drugs on site.
- Refusal to obey reasonable instructions or any other act of serious insubordination.
- Any action or behaviour which brings the Trust into serious disrepute.
- Serious breach of health and safety rules.
- A breach of data protection legislation including unauthorised disclosure of confidential information which causes significant detriment to an individual and/or to the organisation.
- Acceptance of bribes or other secret payments.
- Harassment or any act of discrimination towards anyone you come into contact with because of your work.
- Convictions relating to activities outside work but which have a significant and direct bearing on your employment and duties with the Trust and its reputation.
- Misrepresenting at any time, including at your appointment with the Trust, any previous positions you have held, your qualifications, date of birth, declaration of health, or a failure to disclose a criminal offence or pending criminal action subject to the provisions of the Rehabilitation of Offenders Act 1974.

Suspension Guidance

Reasons for suspension

When an employee does something which may potentially be misconduct, the appropriate manager, according to the Trust Scheme of Delegation, may suspend an employee from work on full pay. Suspension on full pay is not a disciplinary penalty or a presumption of guilt.

Any suspensions would be carried out in accordance with this procedure.

The appropriate manager should arrange a meeting with the employee to establish some preliminary facts. The employee should be given brief details of the serious complaint and be given chance to respond. Once the employee has given a response the interview should be adjourned for the response to be considered. If a satisfactory explanation is not given at the meeting and the complaint / incident could potentially lead to an allegation of gross misconduct, suspension or an alternative to suspension should be considered, pending full investigation.

Reasons to suspend an employee could include:

- To enable the school to conduct a full investigation for potential allegations of gross misconduct.
- Where it may not be possible to carry out a thorough or impartial investigation with the colleague still at work.
- Where it is possible further misconduct could occur.
- If the employee is a risk to the investigation process, themselves or other people i.e. to protect evidence/witnesses from tampering.
- There are no viable alternatives.

Wherever possible, the appropriate manager should meet with the employee to confirm the suspension or alternatives to suspension. When suspending an employee, they should be given the opportunity to be accompanied by a trade union representative or work colleague at all meetings although this cannot unnecessarily delay the suspension meeting.

If the concerns relate to a Headteacher, it is the responsibility of the Chair of the Trust or CEO to consider suspension.

Alternates to suspension (Inc Sickness absence)

Before making the decision to suspend you should consider what alternatives there may be to suspension, below are some alternatives to consider:

- Temporary redeployment within the Trust if appropriate.

- Providing another member of staff to work with the employee or a temporary move to a different area of the school/Trust building (e.g., move to a different year group, school, class or to work with a different child).
- Providing alternative work or stop doing part of their job (e.g., Stop using a specific system or removing access temporarily).
- Work from home.

If you do not feel any of these are viable alternatives, you should ensure that you fully document your objective reasons as your decision to suspend is likely to be challenged by a Trade Union who will want to know what alternatives you have considered.

An employee who is signed off as sick during a period of suspension will have their suspension rescinded until such time as they become fit for work, this is considered an alternative to suspension, this will be confirmed to the employee in writing. When the employee's period of sickness ends the appropriate manager will have to consider suspension or other alternatives to this. The manager must continue to manage the employee's absence concurrently with the investigation process.

Any alternative to suspension implemented is not in itself a disciplinary measure; it is to enable a full investigation to be conducted into very serious allegation(s).

In cases concerned with allegations around safeguarding children, any decisions not to suspend an employee following an allegation of abuse must be fully documented and done in consultation with the relevant Safeguarding Manager. This information must then also be made available to the CEO, LADO and the police where relevant.

Following Suspension Meeting

Once the suspension has been confirmed to the employee verbally, you will need to:

- Write to the employee and
 - Confirm the reasons why this process is taking place.
 - Confirm their suspension, or any alternative to suspension.
 - Confirm the terms of suspension which may include -
 - to contact their trade union representative if not already done.
 - that they remain on full pay during their suspension (unless on sick pay).
 - to remain contactable and available during normal working hours.
 - to not approach witnesses.
- The employee should be provided with a copy of the Trust Disciplinary Policy.
- Appoint and confirm a named contact and support, who the employee can contact during their suspension with regards to work related issues. This would normally be someone separate to the Case Manager/Deciding Manager.
- Appoint an Investigation Officer (if appropriate) who will write to the employee to invite them to an Investigation Meeting.

During Suspension

Ensure the appointed named contact keeps in regular communication with the employee throughout their suspension, giving consideration to any additional support the school can offer or an occupational health referral.

The manager should regularly review the employee suspension and ensure the investigation procedure continues to progress.

Consideration should be given to any information provided to colleagues/parents/service users to explain the absence of the individual. It is important that a need to know approach is adopted when carrying out this process in order to maintain confidentiality.

Lifting a Suspension

The appropriate manager will review the continued need for the employee's suspension at appropriate intervals, dependent upon the circumstances of the case.

Cases involving suspension should always be expedited as quickly as possible.

The employee should be updated following regular suspension reviews and on the status of the investigation by a mutually agreed person who will act as your key contact point.

A decision may be made to lift a suspension if for example;

- The allegations are no longer considered as gross misconduct.
- There is no case to answer.
- The disciplinary process is complete.

If a decision is made to lift suspension, this will be confirmed in writing to the employee without delay. The manager should also consider reinstating all access and equipment.

In circumstance when suspension is being considered the manager should seek appropriate HR advice and template letters for each stage of the suspension procedure.